

y-SIS Newsletter

An exciting summer!

A happy spring and summer seasons to the old and new y-SIS members!

The warmest part of the year is going to see many exciting events and opportunities: in this newsletter, you will find details about some new initiatives featured by y-SIS, namely Tell me Y-SIS, Stats Under the Stars, SIS2023, and StaTalk 2023. Please, let us know if your e-mail address has changed writing at youngsis.2013@gmail.com to make sure you do not miss any updates! We suggest using your personal address to avoid issues when changing institution. For real-time news, follow us on Twitter, Instagram and Facebook!

Tell me Y-SIS

It's been a flying start for Tell me Y-SIS: Share, Inform, Stimulate! Beatrice Franzolini told us about her "Model Selection for Maternal Hypertensive Disorders with Symmetric Hierarchical Dirichlet Processes". You can find more info on all our social channels.

The aim of Tell me Y-SIS is to disseminate the most recent scientific achievements of young researchers and stimulate the exchange of ideas; fill out this form if you want to tell us about your last paper and share the highlights with the social community!

Stats Under the Stars

ANCONA, JUNE 20-21

Stats Under the Stars (SUS<sup>6</sup>) is a whole night event for young statisticians, where different teams (2-4 members) of students (also PhD students!) will compete for the analysis of a dataset in a friendly environment. SUS<sup>6</sup> will take place in Ancona during the night between June 20-21 as a satellite event of the intermediate SIS meeting (see below), and the challenge will be provided by Flow-Traders. See the website for more details and to enroll your team!

SIS2023 and Best Young Contribution Awards

ANCONA, JUNE 21-23

The Intermediate Scientific Meeting of the Italian Statistical Society entitled Statistical Learning, Sustainability and Impact Evaluation, will be held on June 21-23 in Ancona. The Conference will include plenary, specialized, solicited, contributed and poster sessions. A reduced fee will be applied to junior associates and PhD students. y-SIS will be present with an invited session! For more information, see the dedicated website.

During the conference, we will award two prizes for the best contributions presented by a y-SIS member: the Best PhD Student Contribution Award, consisting of a STATA license + STATA course sponsored by TStat, and the Best Young Contribution Award (500€). The prizes are reserved to y-SIS members (by May 31th) that will give a talk at SIS2023, in compliance with the payment of the annual fees. Compile the following form within May 31th to apply!

StaTalk 2023

ROME, SEPTEMBER 15

StaTalk, a full day dedicated to young statisticians, is finally coming back! It is an informal scientific meeting promoting the interchange of ideas among students and young researchers from different areas of study. The day will include a plenary talk and several invited sessions to give young researchers the opportunity to share their ideas, projects, and research interests - both during the sessions and during the social lunch! Stay tuned: more information will be available very soon.
