

y-SIS Newsletter

Welcome back!

With the scents of blooming flowers and the fresh breeze of spring, a new season of y-SIS events is happening! In this newsletter, we are excited to share all the upcoming opportunities for young researchers: our informal conference (StaTalk), a data competition (Stats Under the Stars), awards for the best contributions at the SIS meeting, and much more. For those feeling nostalgic, all past newsletters are now available on our website - take a trip down memory lane and relive the highlights of previous editions!

For real-time news do not forget to follow us on Twitter, Instagram and Facebook!

StaTalk 2025

MILANO, JUNE 13-14

The countdown has started, StaTalk is coming! The program features a plenary talk by Federico Camerlenghi (University of Milano-Bicocca) and a mentoring session with Alessandra Guglielmi (Politecnico di Milano), Alessandro Fassò (Università di Bergamo), and Maria Grazia Valsecchi (Università di Milano-Bicocca). In addition, five invited sessions will be held to give young researchers the opportunity to share their projects and research interests. Plenty of time will be devoted to interaction among researchers, during the sessions as well as the social events.

Don't miss the opportunity to be an active part of it: you can participate by submitting a poster here, with deadline May, 7. We remind you that the conference is free of charge, but registration is mandatory. Please, fill out the registration form before April, 20.

More information and details can be found on the official website.

A social event will be organized to further socialize and have fun together. A registration link with additional information will be shared.

Stats Under the Stars

GENOVA, JUNE 15-16

Stats Under the Stars (SUS⁸) is a whole night event for young statisticians, where teams of young students and researchers will compete for the analysis of a dataset during the night in a friendly environment. The exciting challenge of this year (no spoiler for now!) will be provided by Rulex and will be held in Genova at Tatabox. High monetary prizes await the best teams! Help us make this a fantastic event—spread the word among young researchers!

SIS2025

GENOVA, JUNE 16-18

The 53rd Meeting of the Italian Statistical Society will be held at the University of Genova on June 16-18. y-SIS will be present with 3 invited sessions. More information will be available at the official website. During the conference, we will award two prizes for the best contributions presented by a y-SIS member: the Best PhD Student Contribution Award and the Best Young Contribution Award. The prizes are reserved for y-SIS members who will give a talk at SIS2025 in compliance with the payment of the annual fees. Stay tuned!

y-SIS all around

MILANO, APRIL 2-3

Don't miss the opportunity to join more y-SIS sessions at upcoming conferences! These sessions bring together early-career researchers to discuss hot topics, collaborations, and share insights in an engaging environment. The first upcoming session will be at SDS 2025 - Statistical Methods for Data Analysis and Decision Sciences (April 2-3, Milan). Stay tuned for details on future sessions, we look forward to seeing you there!